FIRST NETTER IN.

The Little Sloop Lydia Is the Fortunate Craft.

Has 600 Large Fresh Mackerel at New York.

A special to the TIMES announces the arrival at New York on Tuesday afternoon of the mackerel netting sloop Lydia, Capt. Peter Stone, with 600 large fresh mackerel, taken in net off Navesink Highlands.

This is the first netting arrival of the season. Last year the first netter in was sch. Ida L. Miller, Capt. John McKinnon, which landed her fare April 17, at Delaware Breakwater.

It is thought that the Lydia hails from Providence and that her crew are two men from this port. It may be, however, the sloop Lydia of Beverly.

TO SEINE FOR BAIT.

Provincetown Grand Banker to Try Experiment.

Sch. Dido of Provincetown, formerly of this port, which is about to sail from that port for the Grand Banks, will be the first Grand Banker, probably, to be equipped with a seine for taking small fishes for bait. Capt. West expects to make larger hauls of cod through the use of fresh bait procured in this manner.

Some of the Grand Bank skippers of that town think the employment of the seine will not facilitate matters much, if any, in the securing of cargoes of cod. One of them says that when squid are plentiful enough to warrant the use of the seine, every doryman can obtain sufficient for his need with the jig.

TO CONSULT MCKINLEY.

Premier Bond Going to Washington About Fishery Question.

FA despatch from St. John's, N. F., says that F. P. Morris, who accompanied Premier Bond to England in connection with the French Shore dispute, said on Monday that he believed Mr. Bond was likely to visit Washington to consult President McKinley about a revival of the Bond-Blaine arrangement.

"I do not believe Canada will interfere with the attempt of Newfoundland to effect an independent arrangement with the United States on the fishery question," said Mr. Morris, "especially in view of the fact that Canada is unable to effect such an arrangement herself."

Plenty of Fresh Fish at Portland.

A large amount of fresh fish was landed at Portland on Monday. For several weeks past, owing to the bad weather, the fishermen have been unable to do anything and there has been a decided scarcity of fish. The pleasant weather, however, has enabled the fishermen to get out again and those who landed trips secured good prices for their fares.

Another Mackerel Fare.

A special to the TIMES this afternoon reports the arrival at New York of sch. Olympia, Capt. Obediah Nickerson, with 80 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

HER SECOND TRIP.

Netter Lydia at New York Again This Afternoon.

The little sloop Lydia, Capt. Peter Stone, which arrived at New York with the first fare of netted mackerel of the season on Tuesday afternoon, as reported in our first edition, is doing some tall hustling.

She landed her fare and went right out again and arrived at Fulton dock again this afternoon with her second fare, 1200 large fresh mackerel. This is certainly quick work.

Newport.

May 1—Steamer F. S. Willard and sch. Gracie arrived here to-day and sailed south netting.

Schs. Susie B., Arrow and Laughing Water are in port.

The trapmen got their first traps down for the first time on Monday. No scup has been taken as yet.

The first mackerel of the season here were taken this morning. Tew's trap took three very large mackerel, weighing over 10 pounds altogether, and the Peckham traps also took three large mackerel. The trapmen say that if the eastern netters paid more attention to fishing off No Man's Land, and less to southern capes, their stocks would be higher. As yet no one has tried out there for mackerel thus early in the season.

Provincetown.

May 1—Sloops Pearl, Betsey Ross, Active, J. W. Caswell, Briganza, Albert Brown and Golden Eagle, sailed south netting to-day.

Mackerel Notes.

Sch. Indiana is fitting for seining.

Sch. Eliza H. Parkhurst has fitted for seining under command of Capt. Patrick Carr.

Sch. Leander F. Gould of Provincetown is at this port to fit for seining.
